Lindsay, lets go with tomorrow morning at 930 PDT [1230 EDT].

Call-in non-responsive

I have previously provided the cc'd NOAA folks with the EPA link to the documents related to the proposed general permit, along with some very basic summary information. I think it would be helpful to start off with a brief summary of the proposed general permit. In our last conversation I believe that you mentioned some future studies that the EPA may be conducting on seafood processor discharges. If I recall this correctly, it would also be helpful to have a very brief summary of those plans. We can then provide you with a summary of our discharge regulations and the provisions of the National Marine Sanctuary Act section 304(d). We can then discuss how to proceed. Does that sound reasonable?
